

Breakout and Meeting Areas—Middle & High School

Flexibility is the key to a great breakout area. Tables and chairs should be easy to organize into large or small groups in order to help students exchange ideas, and soft seating arrangements keep students comfortable during extra help sessions or mentoring.

Requirements for a Great Breakout and Meeting Area

For students, the breakout and meeting area must allow students to easily arrange themselves into various-sized groups and workspaces that allow all team members to see each other without straining. Soft seating provides comfortable seating during teacher-student meetings.

For teachers, the breakout and meeting areas should accommodate both student groups as well as teacher-student mentoring sessions. Flexible furniture makes it easy to arrange and rearrange the space as needed.

For administrators, the best breakout and meeting space should be furnished with products that achieve the goals for that space. They need to know that everything in their order will be available when needed and delivered on time. Installations must be quick and efficient.

Breakout and Meeting Area Solutions from School Outfitters

School Outfitters' research and development team designed a breakout and meeting area that caters to the needs of students and teachers alike. We've selected a variety of flexible furnishings that accommodate student groups as well as teacher-student sessions. The larger meeting area serves the primary function of this space, and an informal gathering area provides inviting furnishings for smaller groups.

The meeting area supports students during breakout sessions, project planning or research. This area includes:

- Collaborative tables
- Mobile seating
- Mobile tech storage

Collaborative tables feature spacious work areas where students can spread out project materials or devices. The table shapes are designed to let all students see each other, giving everyone an equal opportunity to participate.

Mobile seating is easy to move and arrange into groups.

Mobile tech storage can be rolled directly to student work areas to distribute or collect devices. Locking doors and charging ports secure devices overnight.

Mobile whiteboards give students a writing surface for brainstorming or presenting ideas. Rolling casters make it simple to move anywhere in the room.

An informal gathering area features comfortable, inviting furniture that encourages students to use the space. This area can include:

- Soft Seating
- Power-enabled furnishings

Soft seating creates a cozy, comfortable gathering space where students can meet with a club or simply hang out and socialize.

Power-enabled furnishings give students a convenient place to charge their devices.
