Hallway—Elementary School

The Need for a Hallway Common Area

Turning an unused area of your school's hallway into a common area gives students a cozy, inviting space where they can relax as they study or work on assignments. Soft, lightweight seating options are easy for students to pick up and move into arrangements for small group work.

Requirements for a Hallway Common Area

For students, the hallway common area should be an inviting, informal gather space with soft seating and other lightweight or easy to move seating that students can arrange and rearrange as needed. Easy access to power outlets allows students to keep devices charged and ready for use.

For teachers, the hallway common area should include flexible furniture and comfortable seating to encourage students to utilize the area for study or group work. Collaborative tables assist teachers that opt to use the area for extra help sessions or to facilitate after-school club meetings.

Administrators require a hallway common area that's furnished with products that align with their goal for the space. They need to know that all products are available at the time they are needed and that their order will arrive correctly and on time. Installations must be quick and efficient.
