About this space

Individual Study Areas—Middle & High School

An individual study area in your school's media center, common area or classroom should provide students with a quiet place to read, work on assignments or prepare for an exam. Study carrels accommodate students using textbooks or working with devices. Spacious work areas and comfortable seating keep students comfortable through long study sessions.

Requirements for an Individual Study Area

For students, the ideal individual study area should be in a quiet area where they won't be interrupted. Study carrels with high sides keep distractions to a minimum and the built-in grommet holes keep wires out of the way. Work surfaces should be spacious enough to allow students to spread out books and papers, and seating should be comfortable enough for extended use.

For?teachers,?the individual study space should be located away from the main activity area in the media center, common area or classroom. It should be comprised of several study spaces and comfortable seating to ensure students are comfortable using the space for long periods of time.

For administrators, the individual study area should be furnished in a way that meets the goal for the space. All products must be available and delivered on time. Installations must be quick and efficient.

Individual Study Area Solutions from School Outfitters

School Outfitters' research and development team designed an individual study area that caters to the needs of students and teachers alike. Our carefully selected furnishings accommodate students that need a quiet place to study, read or work on assignments. The personal study area, research area, and informal breakout area make creating a great individual study area simple.

The personal study area gives student a quiet place to study or work on assignments. This area includes:

- Study carrels
- Mobile seating

Study carrels feature high sides that help reduce distractions as students study or work. Grommet holes keep cables out of the way.

Mobile seating constructed from soft plastic flexes as students shift positions. Rolling casters make it easy to move the chairs around.

Research areas with spacious work surfaces allow individuals or small groups to spread out books and materials during research or project planning sessions.

- Sit-or-stand desks
- Mobile seating

- Mobile shelving units

Sit-or-stand desks are easy to arrange into groups for collaborative work or study sessions. The work surface adjusts in height, so students can choose to work in a seated or standing position.

Mobile seating is easy to arrange for groups of various sizes.

Mobile shelving units keep research materials and other supplies organized. Rolling casters make it easy to move the unit out of the way when needed.

Informal Breakout Areas give small students groups an inviting place to read, study or plan projects.

- Soft seating
- Power-enabled furnishings

Soft seating keeps student comfortable and relaxed as they work on assignments or read a book.

Power-enabled furnishings give students a place to charge their devices.
